The half mile race for livery horses, gentleman riders, supposed to be the feature of the afternoon, drew surprisingly few entries, a fact said to have resulted from a report that the track was too wet for safety. Ferdinand Jelke of Chicago on the Virgima Hot Springs Company's Shipman, won, pressed most of the way to the finish by Hamilton's Gray Eagle, ridden by J. G. Lowe of Dayton, Ohio, who came in second, though Jelke opened up a lead of three or four lengths at the finish. Mr. Lowe entered at the last minute after the other entries were already on the track.

Miss Mary D. Brooks of New York won

Miss Mary D. Brooks of New York won the ladies' race, three-eighths of a mile on the flat. Mounted on Lord Fassifern, riding jockey fashion with short stirrups, she took the lead from the drop of the flag and came up the long slope like a shot, her mount increasing speed at every second and finishing strong. Miss Brooks's riding was splendid and the grand stand was glad to give her a hand for what was without question the finest bit of horsemanship of the day.

While Miss Brooks had the race won from the start Virginia Girl, ridden by Miss Helen Leroy Miller of New York, who is here with Mrs. Lewis Delafield, hung to the fast pace Lord Fassifern set to within a half dozen lengths of the end. This bay mare got way out of her rider's control and plainly gave her a bad shaking up, though she stayed game to the tape. Miss Charlotte Delafield, who finished third, riding Satan, got a poor start. After the race she entered a protest and, it was said, got the starter's admission that he had made an error.

Dr. Peters Advises Rawhide to Reduce Cost of Living.

At the first of a series of non-sectarian meetings at the New York Theatre yesterday the Rev. Madison C. Peters talked on reasons for the high cost of living. He laid the rise in prices to the crowding of cities and the neglect of agriculture. "Our people flock to the cities, where they would rather stay, starve and sink than go to the country and work.

"New York is thronged with men who would rather depend on charity than habited and unproductive lands near our city. I would rid New York of its loafers by placing good healthy work on one side and a rawhide on the other and then give them fifteen minutes to take their choice."

WOULD CUT BOARD OF EDUCATION TO 8

participated in the exercises at West Side Experts Recommend That It Be Modelled After Board of Estimate.

MEMBERS LACK INTEREST

Meetings Are of a Perfunctory Character and There Is Little Discussion.

The first section of the report on the organization, status and procedure of the the vote. Hudson towns, marched in the Holy Name Department of Education prepared by parade in Hoboken. James Connell and Prof. Frank J. Goodnow of Columbia and Dr. Frederick C. Howe of the People's Institute will be submitted to the Committee on School Inquiry of the Board of Estimate to-day. The complete docu-ment makes 353 pages and is an exhaustive study of the Board of Educa-

The report severely condemns the organization of the Board of Education, declaring that it has failed to perform its function as a directing and unifying agency in its control of the public school

"The Board of Education is present time acting upon the false con-ception of its proper powers and func-tions," says the report. "Instead of confining itself to the larger problems of legislation and surveillance contemplated for it by the Charter, and dictated to all considerations of efficiency, it has attempted to intervene, either as a whole or through standing committees, in the overwhelming mass of minutize volved in the administration of the department

The Changes Recommended.

These are the recommendations made by the experts: The board should divest itself of all administrative functions; it should abolish the present committee or-ganizations; it should be reduced in size, and the Charter should be amended so as to provide that the Board of Educan shall consist of eight members, three of whom shall represent the city at large and have three votes each, and the re maining five, of whom shall be ap-pointed, one from each borough, of whom the representatives of Manhattan, Brooklyn and The Bronx shall have two votes each, and the representatives of Queens and Richmond one vote each. This is similar to the organization of the Board

The last recommendation is discussed at length in the report, and the immediate necessity for such a radical reorganization is emphasized. The experts suggest that the eight members of the suggested board could be appointed eithe by the Mayor alone or by the Mayor and the Borough Presidents jointly, the Mayor appointing the three city representatives and the Borough Presidents the five

Methods Are Criticised.

The report criticises the methods of investigation employed by the Board of Education and says that experts should be steadily employed for this purpose. Board meetings should be in the evening and the members should be informed in advance as to the business to be discussed at meetings.

The perfunctory character of the board's meetings is shown and a lack of interest is charged, due to incomplete information in possession of the members as to measures pending. As proof of this it is cited that in six consecutive meetings in 1911-348 resolutions were introduced and all but five were passed unanimously without discussion
